

The Experiment

Genre: Short Story

A man agrees to participate in an experiment that tests the cleverness of the human mind. He is placed in a cell with no tools and has to find a way out. Ignoring the obvious solution, which is to open the door, he tries a clever but unsuccessful plan.

Superstitions: The Truth Uncovered

Genre: Magazine Article

Some people believe in superstitions to explain why unfortunate things happen. This selection reveals the facts behind many superstitions, such as breaking a mirror, walking under a ladder, and throwing salt over your shoulder.