

Creativity at Work

Genre: News Article

The nonprofit organization Artists for Humanity trains high school students for careers in the arts through its innovative, after-school apprenticeship program. Teen artists study painting, sculpture, design, and other arts, and often profit through sales of their work.

The Hidden Secrets of the Creative Mind

Genre: Interview

In this interview, psychologist and creativity researcher R. Keith Sawyer explains ways to enhance the creative process. Drawing on new revelations about how the brain works, Sawyer explains by using simple techniques that anyone can be creative.